Regarding dog food Wow what an interesting topic. Take a look on the computer under "pet food ingredients" Your eyes will most likely pop out in disbelief. There is so so much garbage in American market pet foods. They even put the euthanized dogs and cats from shelters in them. That being bad enough the drug used to euthanize them also gets processed into the food. Buying brand like Wellness, Solid Gold, Newmans goes a long way in improving things. There is also Nature's Recipe which is from New Zealand. Meat from the American market contains steriods, hormones and antibiodics. The meat from New Zealand comes from free range animals and does not have these aditives. Best to do your own research and see where you are most comfortable. Some folks do a homemade diet.

I will get a definite weight on the cheddar cheese boy tomorrow but my guess would be 35-40 pounds. I do not believe he is microchipped. Again will confirm that tomorrow. He will come with toys. He loves tennis balls and has quite a few.

Do you have plans on where to stay on Thursday evening? We can most likely help out if need be.

Hello!

I was going to write you tomorrow, you beat me to it. :)

Due to [redacted] work and our son's school schedule I will be driving down for colby. I am leaving thursday morning early which should get me there in the evening, I am thinking somewhere between 4-6pm. I will of course call you on the way to give you a closer time range.

I have some questions. What brand of dog food does Colby eat? How much does he weigh? I need to get a seatbelt harness for the trip and I imagine the one our golden retriever uses would be too large. Is he microchipped? What are his favorite kind of toys?

Anything else you can think of that I have forgotten?

Thanks,

Just thinking about S names and if I were picking I would choose Shiloh which means "place of peace"

Hi Karin!

Colby and I got home about an hour ago. ) and Colby met and liked each other fine, we gave her the treat you sent for her she has been in a corner gnawing intently ever since. All but one of the cats are in hiding but that is normal for those three, they are our shy girls. Colby is now sitting on the couch with watching the news and getting head rubs. He enjoyed the long car ride, and had a nice time doing a quick walk around the yard when we got home. I will send some pictures for you in a couple of days ;)

Thank y'all SO much for allowing us to be his new family. I enjoyed meeting y'all very much!
